Dear [REDACTED] INC:

We concluded your Collection Due Process hearing. An impartial Appeals officer or employee, who had no prior involvement with this type of tax and tax periods, conducted your hearing unless you waived that right.

Information about the agreement you reached with Appeals is shown on the enclosed Form 12257. I have also summarized the agreement below and included important information you need to know about your agreement:

The Service will temporarily suspend collection of the balance owed on your account. During the period of suspension, the Service will periodically ask you to send updated financial information and will monitor your account to determine if you can make payments in the future. The Service will have the discretion to remove your account from suspended status in the future.

Penalty and interest will continue to increase (accrue) while collection action is suspended.

You submitted a signed Form 12257, Summary Notice of Determination, indicating that you agree with the summary determination, are waiving your right to judicial review of the summary determination, and waiving the suspension of levy action under Internal Revenue Code Section 6330(e)(1). I approved your Form 12257 and enclosed a copy for your records.

If you have questions, you can contact the person shown at the top of this letter.

Sincerely,

Rachel Wideman for

Jaclyn M Allen
Appeals Team Manager
